EMRICK WINS BIG IN 137th District

Joe Emrick Strongly Defeats Former NJ State House Member & Reagan Appointee

Bangor, Pa – Upper Nazareth Township resident and Bangor native, Joe Emrick, dominated the primary election for the 137th State Representative race. Emrick won big with more than 78% of the votes, capturing 2660 votes to 780 for Don Albanese. Albanese, a long-term New Jersey State House member and Reagan appointee, invested a large amount of time and money into his campaign, but voters strongly responded to Emrick's proven record of making government more accountable, efficient and affordable.

Joe Emrick stated, "I want to thank the voters for their strong support and friendships. Voters have spoken loud and clear; they want an elected official with a proven record of cutting government waste, improving government services and returning the savings back to taxpayers through tax cuts!" Emrick added, "Lots of candidates talk about waste and lower taxes, but my record is clear, I've now cut property taxes twice as an elected official."

Joe continued, "We warmly welcome Mr. Albanese and his supporters to join our taxpayer-led efforts."

Joe concluded, "In my public life, I listen to the voter's concerns and want them to know that I work with purpose and the passion to serve people." After knocking on more than 2250 doors since Petitions began, voters have made it clear, they want government to deliver better services, to cut wasteful spending and return the savings back to taxpayers in the form of tax cuts.

Joe Emrick is the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors for Upper Nazareth Township. Upper Nazareth Township continues to serve as a model for efficient, cost conscious and well-managed government where the Board of Supervisors have worked together to improve essential government services for their residents. The resulting improvements and cost savings have enabled prudent tax cuts for taxpayers.

Joe resides in Upper Nazareth Township with his wife Christine, 10 year old daughter Olivia and 5 year old daughter Zoey. Joe graduated from Bangor High School in 1989 and Magna Cum Laude from Lycoming College in 1993. While at Bangor he was the 1987 Easton Express Football Player of the Year and a collegiate Academic-All American in football. For more information about Joe's campaign, e-mail him at joeemrick2004@hotmail.com.
